THE BEST
Is What You Want and
Is What We Give and
It Costs No More....

Is what you want and is what we give when it costs us more. The sentimental selling of groceries has been reduced to a minimum at this store. It is the natural result of recognizing endeavor to satisfy our customers and give them the best possible return for their money. It is the result of learning from experience how to buy the right article at the right time and at the right price, and it applies to all we buy. Everything in good groceries, canned goods and grocery stuff, all the staples. Our flour is the best.

Prohibition is proving a success in Denver, Colo., according to Chief of Police C. W. Shires of Salt Lake City, who returned from there recently after a brief visit. While away, Chief Shires said he talked with several business men in Denver, notably Col. D. C. Dodge, and they all declared that the abolishment of liquor had proved a beneficial thing for Denver. "Colonel Dodge told me," said Chief Shires, "that the money formerly spent for liquor is now being spent for clothing and groceries and going to make up workingmen's bank accounts. And from my own observation I think he is right. Denver looks better to me this trip than ever before."

Denver and Rio Grande Making Tests of That Used.

Dr. T. B. Beatty, state health commissioner, has been advised that the Denver and Rio Grande is co-operating with the state board of health in investigating the ice and water supplies furnished by Utah towns for trains along that system. But one locality, Mantle, was reported to have an unsatisfactory water supply. Mantle obtains its water from two sources, a canyon creek and several springs. The creek water has been found to be contaminated, says the railroad, and orders have been issued to cease obtaining train water from that source. The investigation of the water supply along other roads has not been completed. If the water at Price isn't good we'd soon hear of it.

HIGHER PRICES FOR ALL KINDS OF WRITING PAPER

NEW YORK, April 7.—The American Writing Paper company has decided on a substantial increase on all grades of writing papers. The advanced rates are an increase of 25 per cent in all grades of writing with a base price of 15 cents or more, and 10 per cent on all grades of writing with a base price of less than fifteen cents.

President Hastings of the company says it is impossible to say how long these prices will prevail and that they may change within a short time. A 20 and 25 per cent increase was made by the company about two weeks ago.
